

MVR · employer playbook

For Maria Santos · Acme Trucking LLC

The MVR is your most-frequently-pulled piece of driver evidence. Done right, it catches problems before they show up on a roadside inspection. Done wrong (annual-only, single state, no continuous monitoring) it's a paper trail to a CSA Driver Fitness alert.

I · THE PULL CADENCE + DECISION MATRIX

MODE	WHEN	WHAT YOU DO WITH IT
Pre-employment	Within 30 days of hire · every state licensed past 3 yr	Evaluate against hiring standard · disqualifying offenses bar employment · file in DQ
Annual	Once per year · every state licensed in past 12 mo	Add to DQ file · feed annual §391.25(c) review · update the §383.51 disqualifying-offense scoreboard
Continuous monitoring	Real-time vendor alerts (Samba Safety, etc.)	Same-day notice of any new violation, license status change, or accident
Post-incident	After any accident, roadside violation, or driver self-cert disclosure	Re-evaluate driver fitness · document corrective action

II · THE §383.51 DISQUALIFYING OFFENSE SCOREBOARD

Auto-disqualification, regardless of company policy:

- 1st major offense (Table 1) · 1-year disqualification · 3-year if hazmat
- 2nd major offense · lifetime disqualification (10-year possible reinstatement)
- 2 serious offenses in 3 years · 60-day disqualification
- 3 serious offenses in 3 years · 120-day disqualification
- 2 railroad-crossing offenses · 120-day

- 3 RR-crossing offenses · 1-year
- 1 OOS order violation · 180-day

You must track these per driver against this scoreboard · the state will eventually catch a third serious, but your CSA score takes the hit in the meantime.

III · COMPANY POLICY ON TOP OF §383.51

Most carriers add stricter internal standards · examples:

- No DUI within 7 years (federal is lifetime for 2nd · most carriers tighten to "never")
- No more than 2 moving violations in 3 years
- No at-fault accident within 3 years
- No preventable accident with injury within 5 years
- Lock out any state where the license is suspended

Document your standard + apply it uniformly · disparate-impact / discrimination claims start when "policy" varies by candidate.

IV · THE ANNUAL REVIEW PATTERN

1. Pull annual MVR 30 days before driver's hire anniversary
2. Compare to last year's MVR · any new violations? new accidents? license action?
3. Have the driver complete §391.27 violation self-cert · driver lists all moving violations from past 12 mo · cross-check against the MVR
4. Sit with the driver · review findings · §391.25(c) signed note
5. Determine action · qualified / corrective action / disqualified · document in driver file
6. File the annual review · with next-review-due date calendared

Continuous MVR monitoring catches problems annual pulls miss. A driver picks up a DUI in their personal vehicle on Saturday · with continuous monitoring you see it Monday morning · with annual pulls you might not see it until 11 months later. The cost is ~$1-3/driver/month and prevents single biggest preventable insurance hit.
